

LATINA

BEAUTY

Curly Qs: Hair Ornaments

by Sandra Mariscal | 12.16.2009 | 9:31am | 0 Comments

The holiday season is officially here and with it comes lots of festivities. Whether it's a family party, clubbing with friends or a work get-together, there will be plenty of excuses to dress up in the coming weeks. I know I'm already thinking about my outfits and hairstyles. However, now that I have a new shorter style, I can't gather my hair into my usual fancy chignon. So, I've been looking for pretty hair accessories to adorn my locks. Luckily, I found the cutest trinkets on Shopthelook.net that will do the trick. Check these out:

This feather barrette ($10) would be perfect to push a few strands back to one side. Plus, you can never go wrong with a glamorous jewel-encrusted headband ($14). And I love these golden floral pins ($28), which can be placed between strands for a hint of color.

Happy Holidays!