Oprah's Outfit

O creative director Adam Glassman—who dressed Oprah in pieces under $100 for this month's cover—has been hankering to do this for a long time. "Readers always love our 'Great Buys Under $100!' and I've been wanting to get Oprah in on the fun," he says. Oprah, who loves a good bargain, was instantly game. "She doesn't limit herself to high-end or pricey pieces," Adam says. "They just need to fit well—and make her feel beautiful." Here's how Adam put together Oprah's outfit, from head to toe.

▲ $44 Oprah loved the thickness and cutout detailing of these hoops so much that she bought them! (liasophia.com for more information)

▼ $53 This orange woven belt is perfect for summer. (Chinese Laundry; 800-363-6328)

▲ $95, $58, $20 Enamel and wood bangles can be stacked or worn alone. (From top: R.J. Graziano, 212-685-1248; Sequin, Henri Bendel, 800-423-6335; bombayfashions.com)

◀ $70 The ruffles on this crisp button-down are feminine, not bulky. (Isaac MizrahiLive!; qvc.com)

◀ $14 This hammered-gold-plated ring is modern and bold. (shopthelook.net)

Adam and his team racked up hundreds of special deals this month. "We always find bargains that are stylish and gorgeous," he says. "This month we really went all out!"
