

'Eat. Pray. Love.' inspires clothing, jewelry designers

Celebrities, Designers, Events, Fashion shows, Film, Jewelry, Shopping, Summer fashion — posted by jeanpatteson on August, 16 2010 10:41 AM

Discuss This: Comments(0) | Add to del.icio.us | Digg it

You better believe the designers and marketers of all things stylish are jumping on the "Eat. Pray. Love." bandwagon.

From camp shirts and kaftans, to shoulder bags and prayer beads, clothing and jewelry like that featured in the movie starring Julia Roberts (below) are suddenly at the rage.

Take these beads from Zirconmania's new Meditation Jewelry collection, available at www.zirconmania.com:

Inspired by those featured in the film, and available in a range of colors, the wooden beads ($24 per strand) can be worn as necklaces or wrapped around the wrist to form bracelets.

Other Eat/Pray/Love-inspired items include the Eau de Spring necklace ($16), available at www.shopthelook.net; Bensimons 'Lacelets' sneakers ($55), available at JCrew's Madewell stores and www.bensimonsusa.com; and Varda flats ($385) at www.vardashoes.com.

Bensimon sneakers

Varda flats

Eau de Spring necklace

Julia Roberts & Javier Bardem in 'Eat. Pray. Love.'